Grant Guidelines

Who May Apply

MHC will consider any proposal to support humanities-based projects or programs submitted by a non-profit organization or a civic, educational, or cultural organization that operates as a non-profit, including (but not limited to) schools and other educational institutions, local government and governmental agencies, and civic associations. Organizations may apply individually or in partnership with other eligible entities and organizations (in the case of multiple partners participating in the grant project, only a single organization can serve as the applying entity). The principal offices of the applicant organization must be within the state of Missouri and must have a DUNS number for your organization. Individuals and for-profit entities may not apply for MHC grants.

Audience

The audiences and/or communities being served by the proposed program or project must be located within the state of Missouri.

Grant Amounts and Limits

- Mini grant requests of $2,500 or less are reviewed and awarded four times in the year.
- Major grant requests of $2,501, and up to $10,000, are reviewed and awarded twice during the year.

MHC may grant full or partial funding as it deems appropriate

In-kind and/or Cash Match Requirements

MHC will not fund 100% of the costs associated with a program or project. The applicant organizations must show in their grant request that they and/or other partners in the project will be contributing in-kind goods and services and/or cash amounts that are at least equal to MHC's contribution in covering costs of the grant-funded activity.

Application Submission Deadlines

- Mini-grant requests of up to $2,500 must be submitted by the first work day of the months November, February, May, and August
- Major grants are reviewed twice a year. Applications for grants over $2,501 must be submitted by the first work day of the months of April and September.

Lead Time

Grant-funded activities should not be scheduled earlier than 60 days from the grant request submission deadline. This will allow sufficient time for publicizing your program (if a favorable decision is reached), or for you to find alternate sources of funding if the request is not approved.

Potential grant applicants may submit a draft proposal to the MHC staff four weeks prior to any grant deadline.

Example work samples (e.g. audio/video production, digitization, website development, printed material, etc.) either created by the applicant organization or contracted out to a third party, must be submitted in the grant application.

Notification of Results

Applicants will be notified about results six weeks following the application deadline.

Additional Requirements

All successful applicants must submit the following to MHC prior to any release of funding:

- Copies of letters sent to respective state legislators notifying them of your award
 - A list of marketing materials and attributions on which MHC's official logo will be featured (subject to MHC approval)
- *Please note: new grant applications will not be accepted if current/previous awarded grant(s) is/are not in compliance

Types of Supported Activities

MHC awards grants to non-profit organizations including museums, libraries, educational institutions, local government, civic associations, and other similar organizations for programs in any format that facilitates interaction between public audiences and humanities experts such as scholars, authors, and educators.

MHC will also assist with funding for projects such as (but not limited to):

- Interpretive exhibits
- Content-based web site enhancements
- Living history and museum theater presentations that include interpretive elements
- Presentations in the creative and performing arts that include humanities-based discussion
- Teachers' workshops in the humanities
- Panel discussions and other types of public forums on humanities-related topics
- Media and publication projects that support the mission of a humanities-based organization or institution

A key factor that MHC council members will consider in evaluating applications is whether or not humanities experts or scholars are involved in the planning, development, and execution of the activity.

Inclusion of People with Disabilities

Grant applicants should plan to accommodate audience members with disabilities. Program organizers should select venues that provide parking, entrances, bathrooms and seating that are accessible for participants who use wheelchairs and walkers. Printed materials such as programs and other hand-outs should be designed to accommodate the needs of people with limited vision (we suggest black print on white background, using a sans serif font, no smaller than 12-point).

Accessibility should be noted in event publicity. Any costs associated with expanding the accessibility of an activity are allowable as an expense of a grant.

MHC grant funds CAN be used for the following:

- Honoraria and travel for speakers, consulting scholars, and program presenters
- Instructional, interpretive and office supplies directly needed to support a funded activity
- Facility and equipment rental
- Publicity and promotional expenses
- Communication expenses, including telephone and internet charges
- Materials, labor and design fees for interpretive exhibits
- Acquisition of AV equipment for interpretive exhibits
- Administrative expenses (outside of regular staff salaries)
- Accessibility-related expenses
- Printing

MHC Grant Funds CANNOT be used for the following:

- Programs or projects that have no humanities-related content, interpretation or discussion
- Programs that advocate a particular religious or political point of view
- Individual research unrelated to a program being funded by MHC
- Capital improvements such as construction, acquisition of equipment, artifact or structural restoration and/or preservation costs that are unrelated to an interpretive exhibit
- Museum or library collection acquisitions, except for modest expenditures directly related to an interpretive program or project
- Salaries or wages for permanent institutional staff (e.g. Project Directors)
- General operating support
- Food or liquor
- Entertainment that is unrelated to program content
- Individual study to obtain an academic degree

Frequency

Applicants may receive up to two consecutive grants. Those who receive two consecutive awarded grants will be required to take a year off before re-applying to MHC.

Final Reports

Final reports will be due within 90 days of the end of the grant period; extensions can be made for reasons deemed acceptable to the Board through a written request by the awardees.

If your organization previously has been awarded an MHC grant, and you did not turn in your final report, your organization may not apply for another grant from MHC for a three year period after the due date for that delinquent final report.

Getting Help

MHC staff and grant committee members are happy to review draft applications and make suggestions for improvements. However, please send your draft for review at least 30 days prior to the actual submission deadline you intend to meet. This will provide time for our review and for you to make any recommended changes. Please keep in mind that although MHC's review of your draft will probably increase your chances of success, it is not a guarantee of approval.

Missouri Humanities Council (MHC) believes equity, justice, empathy, and respect are essential for vital, flourishing communities. We encourage applications from candidates with diverse backgrounds, particularly those from traditionally underrepresented groups, whose professional and personal experiences will help us work toward our vision of a Missouri that invites diverse perspectives, explores challenging questions, and strives for just communities.
